Tiggy And the Aquathlon

This is Tiggy, she and her friends are at a Aquathlon in Birmingham. Tiggy is very worried because it's her first competition and she has to count up the scores when everyone has had their turn it is very hard!

Tiggy is still worried about counting so she goes to ask Tony for some advice. "mmm" thinks Tony while stroking his chin. Then suddenly, out of nowhere comes a Ding! "Have you thought of using tallies" he said. "No what are they" said Tiggy!

"Well they're lines that help you count, you draw four lines then cross them out to make 5 then you count in 5's" exclaimed Tony. "Thank you" said Tiggy. Now Tiggy wasn't so nervous so she went to sit down and started tallying the scores

Names	lengths swam	Laps ran

Tabitha

"Guy's I've got all the scores including the other teams" She shouted.
 "Who won" Said Tony. Suddenly another idea popped up Ding!
 "I should order these highest to lowest" She said!
 "That's a great idea" Said Tony!

Tony = $11 + 6 = 17$
 Tim = $6 + 4 = 10$
 Filly = $15 + 2 = 22$
 Rabith = $21 + 13 = 34$
 Total = $17 + 10 + 22 + 34 = 83$

Scores
leopards:	94
Frogs:	55
turtles:	83
otters:	79
elephants:	85

elephants:	85

So Tiggy started to order them highest to lowest.
 "Guy's we came second that's so good and we were only 2 points away" Said Tiggy. So they got their silver medals took a picture and they all shouted "Yeah"!
