

CIRCLE THE HERO

Written and Illustrated by Sreshtha Gagiraju

Once upon a time, there lived four friends.
They are Square, Circle, Triangle, Rectangle.

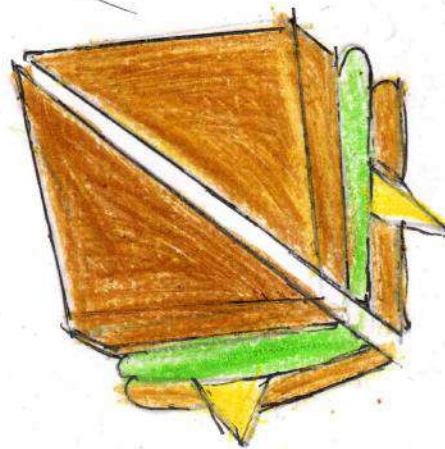

One day, they all went to a competition called "Who is the hero?". All the shapes from around the world came to the competition.

First, they all stood in a line. Triangle was the first in the line. The judge asked Triangle to tell about herself. "I have 3 sides and 3 corners- I make good party hats and sandwich slices" Triangle proudly said

Sides - 3
Corners - 3

Next square was on the line. "I have 4 sides and 4 corners. I make good photo frames and chess boards," Square proudly said.

Next Rectangle was on the line. "I have 4 sides and 4 corners. I make good T.V's and whiteboards," he proudly said.

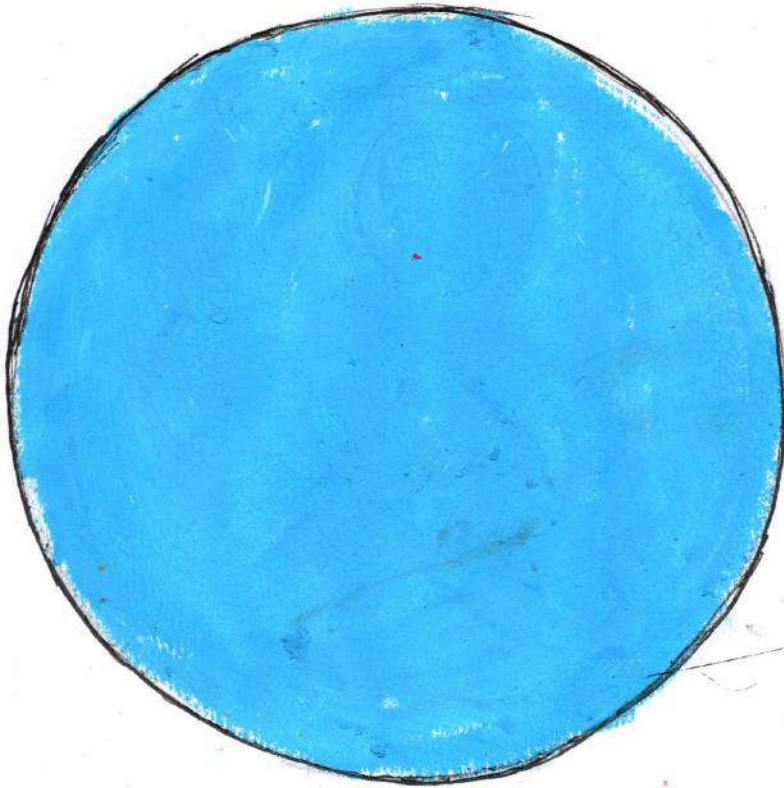

All the shapes spoke about themselves in similar lines.

Sides - 4
Corners - 4

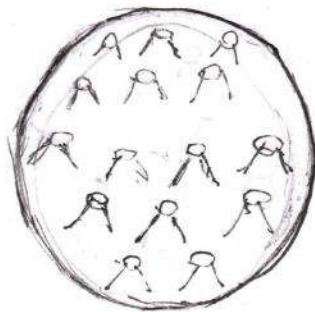

At the last, it was Circle's turn. "I have no sides and no corners," said Circle. Everyone laughed and exclaimed, "you are a zero". Circle felt sad and said "I make good pizzas". "Most planets also have my shape".

Sides - 0
Corners - 0

Suddenly, a thief came and stole Triangle's handbag.

All the shapes started running behind the thief. But circle rolled quickly and caught the thief. Circle took the handbag from thief and gave it to Triangle.

Everyone was amazed by Circle's speed and apologized for making fun of him. Then everyone paid attention to his words. "I have great speed and every thing natural is in my shape; Sun, Moon, Earth," Circle proudly said. Everyone exclaimed, "You are not ZERO, but HERO!!!".

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

My name is Sreshtha S. I love reading books and dreaming about them. I wrote this book to tell about properties of shapes. It is my first book and I learnt how to make a math concept interesting.
