hi!

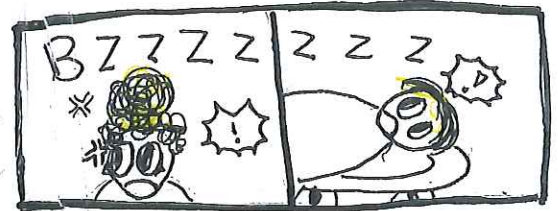

In 3021, 2 space agents, Karina and Leo, were dozing in the Afternoon suns (41:024) in their "spacious" (company provided) Homent. Suddenly, the boss called.

Shocked as they were, these 2 were professional space agents they whipped out their Lazar Shooter and surveyed their surroundings. When they figured how foolish they were, they nervously answered the call. Boss told them that a little Zologra had been kidnapped (a fallen Angel, rejected by hell, enters the planet Zarith as a ghost) And it was their task to rescue the Zologra. They readied their equipment and flew off to planet Zugar where the child was heldaptive. The first thing they noticed was that the entire planet (almost) was of mirrors! Made to confuse enemies and conceal allies. As they walked further and further into the maze of Mirrors, they encountered 3 monsters! they were creepy invisible cats, showing only their face. And their paws. Karina saw them first and gasped, "what a CUTIE!"

Leo, the always "serious" one, pulled Karina back and said, "don't it might be dangerous." Karina rolled her eyes and Raced to one of the monsters...

CRAZY LADY ALERT!

eeeeeee!

NO! IT'S DANGEROUS

And hugged them! OF COURSE, she got a deep scratch on her stomach, Later, becoming a scar.

MASSIVE Scar is. As the obvious truth that the cat/monster were dangerous. As Karina sadly walked away towards a certain way (the exit) the cats seemed to walk/float? towards the left knowingly. Leo decided that the cats knew where they were going and wanted to follow them. As he told Karina, her eyes sparkled with hope, still wanting for the cats to love her as she LOVED them... It was worth the risk. As they turned left and <sup>Right</sup> around the Maze of Mirrors, they suddenly found themselves

SURROUNDED by about 10 monsters/cats. All grinning menacingly.

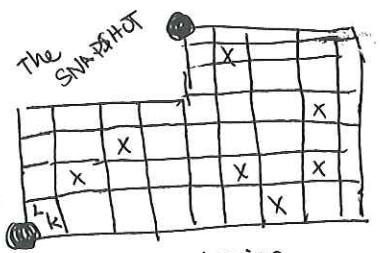

They were Trapped! When they tried to shoot them one by one, it took too long. Leo had another plan. He threw an eye view hole at the ceiling and took a snapshot. Their problem was this ↓

They couldn't back out! Because they had no idea how they came here in the first place.

(I know, I can't believe they are space agents either)

Leo laughed, it was so simple! It was so brilliant! We could use Billiards! Billiards are :

- LK: Leo & Karina
- X: Monsters
- : The floor's checker tiles
- : door (ESCAPE!)

Karina's eyes

shined with excitement.

As they warily watched their backs,

They listed the facts they knew:

- They don't attack first (Boss idea)
- Laser bounces on mirrors
- use Billiards
- We r hungry
- We big brain u d

PH: BILLARDS mustafa.jii.com/wp-content/uploads/2016/06/Billiards/PDF

A MATHEMATICAL billiard is a domain with boundary with point that moves freely inside the domain subject to the elastic reflection rule. This means that when the point hits boundary, it reflects according to the following Rule:

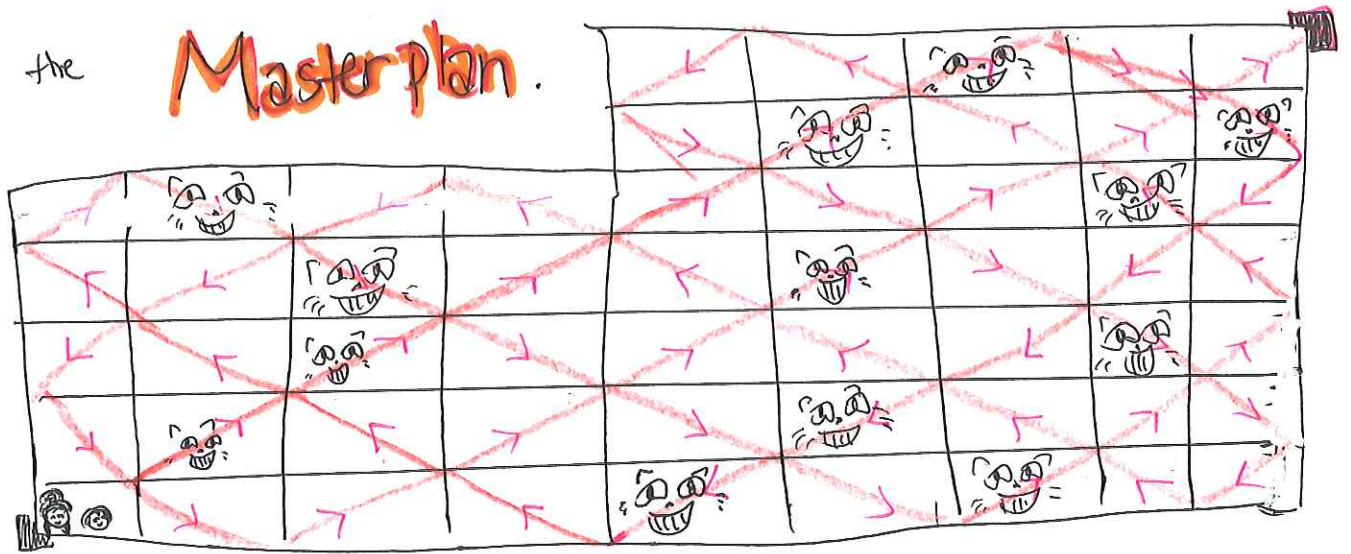

- The incoming and outgoing trajectories lie in the same 2-plane with the normal at impact point.
- The angle of incidence = the angle of reflection.

Eg:

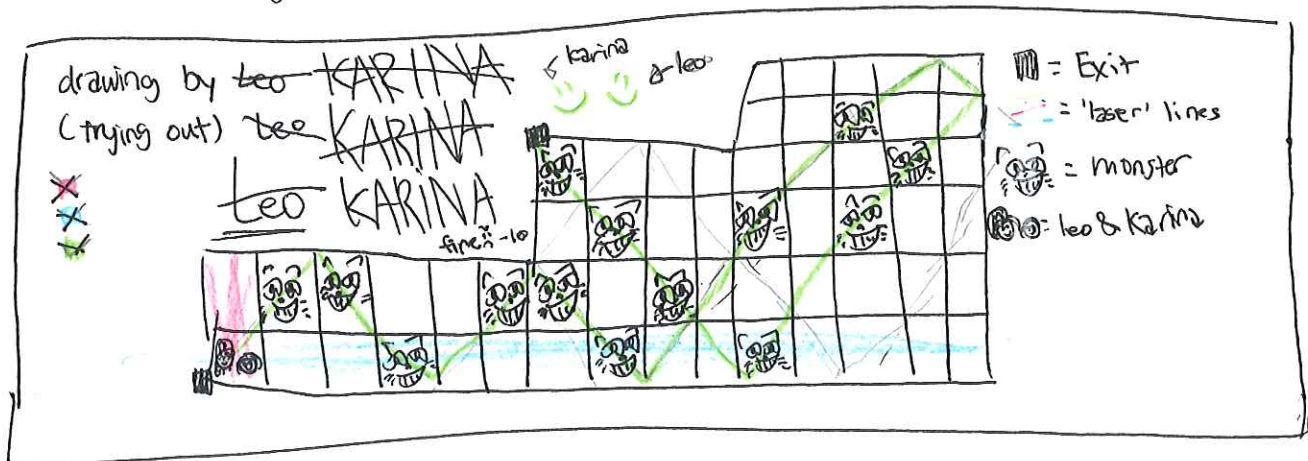

↳ the direction
• = end/entrance

As they walked dramatically and prepared their guns (dramatically) with dramatic music playing... The thought of the Masterplan.

It was PERFECT! when they Tried it out, it worked! As they walked past the dead bodies they saw that they were all actually ROBOTS!! That meant that there was a controller using a remote  to control them! Leo and Karina nodded at each other thinking: We have to catch him/her! As they walked into the next room, it was even more complicated! It was like 3 rectangles mashed together! As Leo threw the Holo (eye-view holo) in the sky again, it looked like this:

When they tried it out, it also worked out. But they were shocked to see just who was behind all this evilness! It was... THE BOSS!

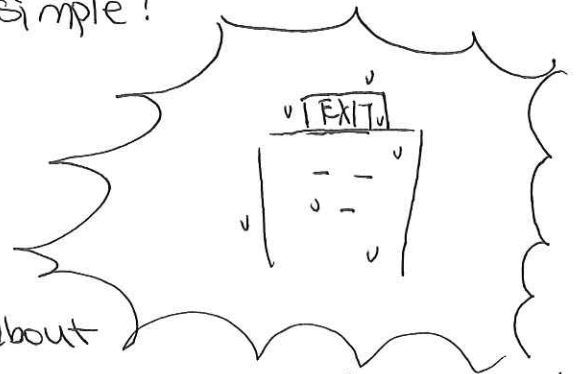

The Boss (yes he looks like that) sneered evilly, "haha! You, Karina and Leo are my test subjects! You have fallen into my trap! These creepy cats are my experiment to take over the WORLD! Here, I am conducting this project. I was trying to see if the cats were heat resistant. Thanks to you, I can improve them now! Hahaha! And since you know my secret! I will Blast you to smithereens and no one will know my secret! I have the remote to blast you!"

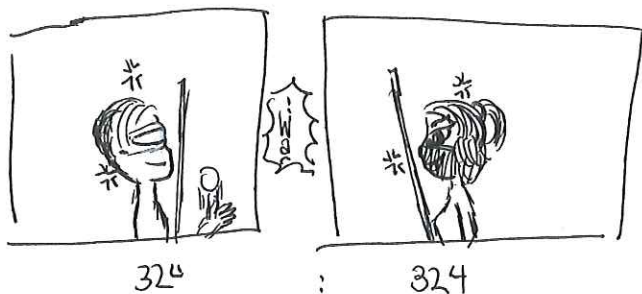

See the Explosives all around you? There's no way to escape now! Hahaha!" Leo and Karina looked at each other..... And laughed out loud! It was so obvious how they could escape!

It was so ridiculous and simple!

there it was! The exit was right there! As the Boss was talking about his evil plans, they just snuck past him and reported him to the police, not the space agents. Where the Boss was taken into custody for trying to destroy peace. The space agents, Karina and Leo became legends for saving the empire of peace and Leo became the head of Space Agents whereas Karina became a CIA for the government. Of course, they still remained "friends". Some times they play billiards the actual game and currently are still tied.

or is it?
